

We Can Draw!

We Can Draw!

“Hi, Max and Tom. Get a pen and sit. What can you draw?”

“I can draw
a dog with a hat!”

“I can draw
a slug on a big bus!”

“Can you draw a fish?”

“Yes! This fish is in a tank.”

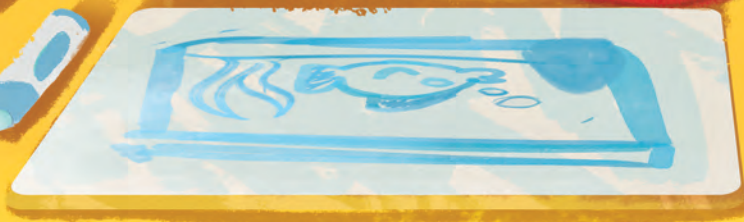

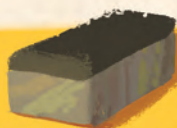

“I can draw a fish.
This fish has a wish!”

“This bug is for this fish. Yum!”

“I can draw a big rock for this fish.”

“This fish can swim and dash to the top. He can swim to a dock.
This fish can flip and flop.”

“Not this fish. She naps on a ship.”

Do you like this big fish, Max and Tom?

An illustration of a room with a large window on the left showing a bright, sunny outdoor scene with green trees. To the right is a tall wooden bookshelf filled with books and a red basket. Two children are standing in the center. The girl on the left has dark skin and short dark hair, wearing a green shirt and grey pants, holding a green-bordered card with a drawing of a fish. The boy on the right has light skin and blonde hair, wearing a red shirt and grey pants, holding a blue-bordered card with a drawing of a fish. A speech bubble from the boy contains the text "Yes! What a fish—the king of them all!".

Yes! What a fish—
the king of them all!

Story Word

In this book, the word draw is a story word. It is used to support the reader's understanding of the action in the decodable book We Can Draw!, in which Max and Tom follow their teacher's drawing prompts.

draw

Think and Discuss

1. What does Max's fish wish for?
2. How do the kids react to the teacher's prompts?
